Major General Dix, New York : An official report from Major General Wallace just received states that a battle took place between the forces under his command and the rebel forces at Monocacy to-day, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m. and continuing until 5 o'clock p. m.; that our forces were at length overpowered by the superior numbers of the enemy, and were forced to retire in disorder. He reports that Colonel Seward, of the New York artillery, was wounded end taken prisoner, and that Brigadier General Tyler was also taken prisoner: that the enemy is at least 20,000 strong; that our troops behaved well, but suffered severe loss. He is retreating to Ealtimore.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

Dispatch to the Chronicle. BALTIMORE, July 9, 7 p. m .- The excitement in this city is intense and on the increase Crowds are thronging the bulletin boards, and a thousand wild and improbable rumors are in circulation.

Railroad communication with western Marvland is still kept up. The five o'clock train went out this afternoon towards Frederick. and Prescott Smith, the master of transportation, states that the Baltimore and Onio

Gen. Wallace is engaged with the enemy between the Monocacy and Frederick, and heavy skirmishing has been going on this afternoon. The rebel cavalry are extending their excursions in various directions, one squad being seen at Catoctin, within five miles of Westminster. The rolling stock of the Western Maryland road has been sent to this city for safe keeping.

Quite a commotion has been stirred up amongst the owners of horse flesh here, as the Government is pressing into service every available animal. In order to prevent giving information to the enemy, no one is permitted to leave the city without a pass. At the headquarters of Gen. Wallace, Col. Lawrence and Col. Wooley are extremely active, and exertions are being made to meet the exigencies of the hour. All accounts agree in representing the rebel force to be much larger and the movement much more formidable than at first supposed.

Proclamation by the Governor and Mayor. BALTIMORE, July 0 .- The city has been full of rumors to-day of disaster to our forces under Gen. Wallace at Frederick.

As near as I can get at the truth, the enemy appeared in large force in front of Frederick last evening. General Wallace not deeming himself strong enough to resist them, fell back to Monocacy bridge. Here he was attacked this morning in overwhelming numbers, and forced to tall back on reinforcements, which were sent to his relief. The enemy were so strong that it is reported our forces are still falling back, and that the rebels have destroyed the bridge at Monocacy.

The Governor has issued the following PROCLAMATION.

Citizens of Baltimore: We have been unwilling to create an unnecessary alarm or agitation in this community by any appeal for your immediate assistance in resisting the threatened invasion that may be deemed premature, but have no longer such an apprehension, and have no besitation in declaring that in our opinion the danger which now threatens the city is imminent, and if you would avert it every loyal man must at once prepare to meet it. The invading enemy is, by the last accounts, approaching the city. All the men that can be raised are wanted to occupy the fertifications already completed and to prepare others. It is not important how you should come, but most important that you should come at once-come in your leagues or come in militia companies-but come in crowds and come quickly.

Brigadier General Lockwood has volunteered to take charge of all of the civil forces thus raised, and has been assigned to that command.

The loyal men of every ward will assemble at their usual places of ward meeting, and will report forthwith to General Lockwood, at his headquarters, A North street. A. W. BRADFORD,

Governor of Maryland. JOHN LER CHAPMAN, Mayor. The liquor stores in this city were all closed at & o'clock to-night. The streets are thronged with people discussing the state of affairs. Troops are being rapidly sent forward. Horses are being seized, and cavalry mounted and sent to the front. The President and Superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad are doing all in their power to aid the authorities in forwarding troops to the scene of action. BALTIMORE, July 9 .- Later accounts from the front represent that our forces have fallen back from the Monocacy to the vicinity of Monrovia. Our forces burned the turnpike bridge over the Monocacy. Particulars of the fight have not been received.

haada appeared at Reistertown, (sixteen miles from Baltimore,) and also at Ellicott's Mills, which is twelve miles from Baltimore; but as the telegraph was working to-day from the latter point, this may be untrue.

Gen. Wallace was still falling back, but is receiving reinforcements. Rebel parties are represented as going in the direction of the Pennsylvania Central railroad-of course with a design to cut the road. However, the reports are so numerous that mothing with certainty can be arrived at.

LATE AND IMPORTANT NEWS.

GENERAL WALLACE POSTED IN A STRONG POSITION. LARGE REINFORCEMENTS OF TROOPS AB-NO REBEL DEMONSTRATION ON BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON RAILROAD.

NO APPEARANCE OF THE REBELS WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON. THE REBELS HAVE NOT CROSSED AT ED WARDS' FERRY AS REPORTED.

GEN'L TYLER REPORTED NOT CAPTURED

THE INVASION. Nothing is known here that we have been able to learn of up to 10% a. m. to-day, concerning the extent of our losses in the engagement of yesterday at the Monocacy. The bulletin of the Secretary of War, which we herewith publish, embraces all its particulars so far as ascertained in this city. Gen. Wallace's command were this morning in a position to cover any demonstration the rebels may make to-day or to-morrow on Baltimore, where, we believe, a considerable body of troops from a distance are arriving at this time.

The Washington branch railroad was undisturbed up to 9 a. m. to-day. It is not probable that it can be interfered with seriously until sometime to-morrow, by which time, we apprehend, sufficient Union troops will have been concentrated to drive the invading force

The force within the line of entrenchments around this city is ample for its thorough protection against any demonstrations the rebels may make in this direction; though to enable some portion of it to participate in the defence of Baltimore, it eeems to us that it may become necessary that our fellow-citizens in and out of Government employment subject to militia duty may be called out for service immediately around their homes.

We have no apprehensions that either Baltimore or this city are in danger of being sacked by the rebels; knowing as we do the preparations made for the security of both; and we therefore advise the public to keep as cool as the state of the weather will allow, each man making his arrangements to be ready to respond instantly to any call for his services in defence of his home that may possibly grow out of the military "situation" of the hour in Nothing whatever is yet known to the public here concerning the movements of the rebels since the engagement of yesterday; nor do we believe they have so far made any demonstration which has enabled the authorities to learn their future purpose. That is: whether they propose to dash next at Ealtimore, at Washington, or to turn northwest in the hope of striking Hunter en route east, at some point so near the upper Potomac as that they may escape south of that river before being intercepted by the progressing gathering of ample Union forces.

We make this publication simply that the public may know the truth concerning the state of things in our front this morning, so far as it is known here.

The morning trains from Baltimore were run with great caution, so as to guard against any possible contingency of being interfered with by some small squad of rebel cavalry or sympathizing Maryland disciples of "peace." The telegraph to Baltimore, we know, con-

No Appearance of the Rebels There. A dispatch received at headquarters at a late hour last night from Edwards' Ferry states that the rebels have not crossed there as reported-neither have they made their appearance in the vicinity.

The Department of Washington. The rebels have not as yet made their appearance anywhere within the Department of Washington. Gen. Augur and his staff officers are busily engaged to-day making ample preparations to receive them should they show themselves within this department.

Gen. Tyler Reported not Captured. A gentleman who came dewn over the Balti. more and Ohio Railroad frem Sandy Hook vesterday afternoon reports that he passed Monrovia at 6 o'clock p. m., and saw Gen. Tyler there at that time. This gentleman thinks the report of his capture may be a mistake.

BALTIMORE, July 9 .- Our forces have evacuated Frederick, and fallen back in this direction, and now occupy a position south of the Monocacy.

The rebels occupy Frederick in what force is not positively known. Reports say twelve thousand, and that they are under command of Breckinridge.

There are reports, seemingly well founded, that another rebel force has crossed the Potomac near Edward's Ferry, and have moved in the direction of Urbana, Frederick county, In what force is not known, but it is supposed to be an effort to flank us.

STIRRING NEWS FROM UP RIVER. The Report of the Occupation of Frederick by the Confederates Confirmed.

The telegraphic news from Baltimore confirms our information given in our first edition of the occupation of Frederick by the Confed-

Edward's Ferry, where a portion of the Confederate force is reported to have crossed, is about thirty miles above Washington.

Wallace, at the Monocacy, is posted in a position of great strength, and the forces of veteran and other troops constantly reaching him will be ample to secure him from being dislodged, and he will speedily in turn be able to put the enemy on the defensive.

We may expect soon to hear stirring news from that quarter.

LATEST FROM THE FRONT. Artillery Duel Thursday Night-Indications of the Begining of Active Operations—Grant Sure of Richmond—More

Evidence of Rebel Barbarity. The U. S. mail steamer Highland Light, Captain Weeks, arrived here this morning from City Point, which place she left at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. From parties coming up on her we learn that on Thursday night the rebels brought a battery to bear upon a working party of ours who were engaged in throwing up earthworks nearer to Petersburg, and for awhile a sharp cannonading took place, our men having also brought up a battery to oppose that of the rebels; and that the latter was soon silenced. Subsequently the rebels took up a new position, and again opened upon our working party but finding they could accomplish nothing they ceased. With this exception all has been quiet for a few days past. But this is but the preliminary moment of quiet before the storm. Grant never was more hopeful of taking Richmond, never was better prepared and was never before so near the accomplishment of his purpose as at this moment. All this may seem paradoxical in view of the rebel "Great Calculations" of creating a diversion from Richmond by their Potomac raid, but it is strictly true as time will show. Hon. John Covode, of Pennsylvania, came up on the Highland Light, bringing up the body of his son, Col. G. H. Covode, of the 4th Pennsylvania cavalry, who was killed while protecting the rear of Sheridan's train, while crossing James river in its late movement from the White House to join the main army. Mr. Covode went down on Tuesday last, and as the body of the Celonel was in the rebel lines, four of his own company volunteered to search out the spot where he fell. Permission was obtained and they started on their mission and got safely through the lines and returned. The next night General Sheridan detailed a company of 40 men, who, under cover of a gunboat detailed for the purpose, landed at St. Marys, in Charles county, and avoiding the rebel pickets, secured the body. His body had been interred by some negroes, who placed boards around the grave. These negroes state that Col. Covode lingered all night and died the morning after being wounded. Before he died the rebels took from him his watch, money and valuables, and then stripped him of all his clothing except his

The enemy had previously burned the extensive railroad platform, and all the buildings along the line of the Potomac. The conflagration on Thursday night threw a glow over all the

The main body of the rebels is supposed to be in the neighborhood of Mechanicksburg, watching for the appearance of Gen. Hunter, and the opinion is becoming general that they do not number the half of thirty thousand. WANTED HIS WHISKY.—This morning a cavalryman went into Clark's restaurant, on First street, near D, and called for whisky, which was refused, when he drew his pistol, and, aiming it at the barkeeper, pulled the trigger. Fortunately, however, a bystander threw up the pistol, and the ball passed out of the roof. Officer Clements arrested him and turned him over to the officers of his regiment, the 22d Pennsylvania. AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN .- There is nothing doing in the canal, although the panic created by the rebel raid has subsided.

water continues to be very low, which would hinder the passage of laden boats, even if no other hinderance of trade existed, but it is supposed that in the vicinity of Hancock, the rebels did damage the canal, in the dams and culverts there. We can see no reason for this supposition, as no positive report of damage to the canal at any place west of Georgetown has been received. THE COLUMBIAN COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP .-The pupils of the Male Grammar Schools who are candidates for the scholarship, which is annually awarded to the most meritorious pupil of public schools of Washington, will be examined at Mr. Wight's school on next Monday morning.
